

Epilepsy Action's insurance schemes

Introduction

For some people with epilepsy, getting insurance can be difficult, depending on how they are affected by their seizures. Tyser, an insurance broker acting on behalf of Epilepsy Action, have looked for some competitive, epilepsy friendly, policies that you could try.

Epilepsy Action benefits from a small commission, if you take out insurance through one of the listed insurance companies. The amount of commission we receive would depend on what type of insurance is taken out.

Below are contact details for different insurances offered through Tyser. Currently, Tyser does not offer travel insurance.
